EDITOR JENNY JO PRUNER
ART EDITOR MARGARET WILLIAMS
BUSINESS MGR. CLAYBORNE GWYN

We, the staff of 1954, have compiled for you this edition of the HURRICANE. It is your "memory book" which records the deeds of the students, who embody the spirit of Morion High School. In the years to come this annual will keep alive the memories gathered during your school days. The future years will bring new faces and changes to the School scene, but there shall be this record of the friends we knew, the things we did, and the memories that are still dear to us.

The Richmond
crowd will ride again. Best of luck to you. Eric

Presenting Our Theme

Alma Mater

Oh, never may a shadow fall upon thy cherished name,

Oh, never may thy sons and daughters bring thee
reproach and shame,

Before us as a flaming beacon that guides the wanderer
to shore,

Thou Marion dost lead us onward, our guide for evermore.

Oh, Marion, the coming years will never dull our love for thee.

The hours we spent within thy walls will live again
in memory,

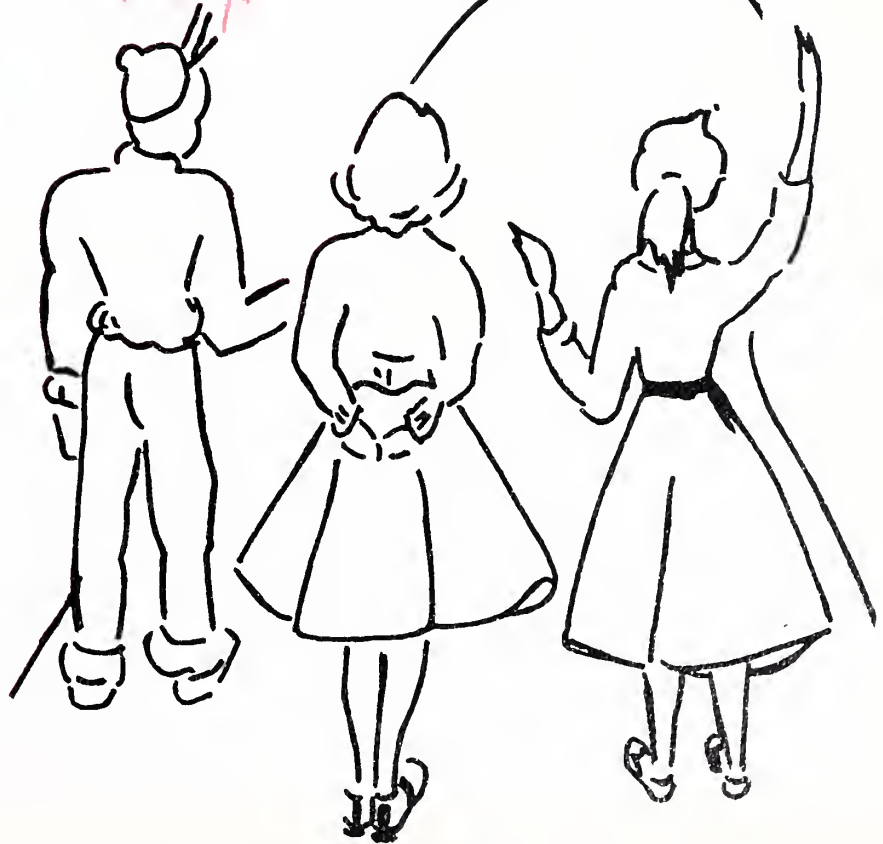

The noise and tumult of the world, the bitter storm and strife

Will lead our thoughts to high school days, the sweetest time of life.

"Thou, Marion, dost lead us onward, our guide for evermore..."

*Mr. Davenport,
I had a great time being with
you. My heart is sure to be with you.
I will miss you.*

Special Recognition

We, the 1954 HURRICANE staff, took pride in giving this special recognition to Mrs. Cornelio Anderson, who, in her quiet and unassuming manner, has inspired all who know her not only to appreciate the culture of the past, but to possess a keener interest in the things of the present. Because of her unselfish service and masterful instruction, she will be long remembered by the students of Morion High School.

Dedication

In appreciation of his devoted interest in the students of Marian High School and their activities as instructor and friend, we, the 1954 HURRICANE staff, sincerely dedicate this edition of our yearbook to Mr. Charles K. Franzen.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1954, being of sound (?) mind and possessing many qualities, abilities, and assets, which we feel would be useful to those we leave behind, do hereby make, publish, and declare this our last will and testament.

To the faculty, we leave our appreciation for their understanding, helpfulness and patience.

Martha Buchanan wills her short haircut to Mary Lou Haywood.

Glenda Stone wills her tenor sax to any on-coming band member who has the will power to restrain himself from bending it around a tree.

Kay Ruth wills her ability to get along with Mr. Mac to B. B. Birchfield.

Charlat Parsons wills her frequent appearance on the absentee blank to next year's seniors who need the rest.

Janice Arnold wills her locker (with the cotraans) to Phyllis Eblen, sincerely hoping it will expand to hold the annual material more comfortably.

Earl Gillespie wills his place at the end of the lunch line to anyone who wants it.

Dale Dixon wills his parking place to anyone who can keep clear of Mr. Mac's frant fender.

Sherman Hall and Raymond Parks will their educated typewriters to anyone who can figure out how they work.

Johnny Johnston wills his ability to go steady to "Scrapiron" Catran.

Libby Ann Thompson wills to Harriet Slemph her sewing box with hope that she won't wound herself on the contents.

Richard Clark wills his position as hall monitor to Charles Hash if he has the patience and a strong right arm.

Barbara Moore wills her ability to shelve books (fiction) to Rita White.

Louise Gengo wills her position as secretary of the senior class to any oncoming senior who likes to run the mimeograph machine.

Dorothy Elledge and Betty Lou Naff will their early morning seats in the cafeteria to any industrious government students.

Anne Eller wills to Sandra Groseclose the circles under her eyes from working too late on the MARIONETTE.

Shirley Naff wills her chess pie in the cafeteria to Isbet Anderson.

Carolyn Lambert wills her shortness to Pat McCreedy.

David Prose wills his nickname of "Yank" to David Scalise.

Robert Young wills his ability to get along with Miss Buchanan to Lewis Pugh.

Dick Williams wills his place in line at the college to Bill Rause.

Bab Reedy leaves his A+ in Physics for all to admire — it's the first and last one on record says Mr. Paffard.

Cannie Stephenson wills her good times on band trips to other band students who will take advantage of them.

Edwina Richardson wills to Nancy Duttan her bruises received in basketball.

Carrol Murray wills her position on the basketball team to Katherine Simmerman.

Frances Snaveley leaves her front seat in Mr. MacDonald's government class to anyone who has the nerve to take it.

Yvonne Kell wills her ability to leave things to the last minute to Phyllis Vernon.

Charles Reedy wills his place behind the plow handles in agriculture to Jack Stowers.

Ronnie Cox wills his solo chair in band to Bill or Jimmy. (May the best man win!)

Shirley Tester and Helen Clark will their ability to annoy Mr. Sturgill in study hall to anyone who wants to be the target of the teacher.

Kathleen Widner wills her grades to Mildred and Lorraine Widner.

Elaine McKinnan wills her ability to get by without studying to anyone who dares risk it.

Kenny Gwyn wills his use of strategy to Ralph Sebastian.

George Thompson wills his half back position to his brother, Bill Thompson.

Shirley Horne wills her position as majorette to Margaret Eller.

Clayborne Gwyn wills his ability to lay out of classes and get caught to Boyd Comer.

Patsy Heldreth and Joann Maxey will their ability to slip up in lunch line to Ella Stephenson and Nancy Clyburn.

Elizabeth Wayland wills her office as president of the Forensic Club to next year's president, hoping he or she won't be such a pest to Miss Greenwood.

Charles Fowler wills his love for football to Billy McCarty.

Shirley Goodpasture leaves her love for physical education class to all the lazy girls at MHS.

Frances Dysan, Hazel Goodson, and Shirley Louthen, the "Three Muskateers," will their ability to talk in class to any oncoming seniors who can get away with it.

Arlene Wolfe, Peggy Sowyers, and Jaanna Janes will their ability to sneak out of class to Freddie Overboy, Joy Greer, and Joan Bowman.

Margaret Williams wills her artistic talent to Libby McCarty.

Jahn Darity wills his laziness to Carl Waddell.

Bab Williams wills his ability to be a "60 minute man" to Robert Rash.

Peggy Lamie wills her enjoyment of coming to school everyday to Judy Parks.

Pauline Gullion wills her ability to sleep in Miss Anderson's English class to anyone who has the nerve to try it.

Betty Burgess wills her shorthand books to the city dump.

Ann Vernon wills her position as center guard on the basketball team to Joann Young.

Jenny Jo Pruner wills her position on the annual staff and the gray hairs that go with it to Peggy Jarrett.

Mary Lynn Stamper wills to Betty Stamper her seat in government class, so that it may be kept in the family.

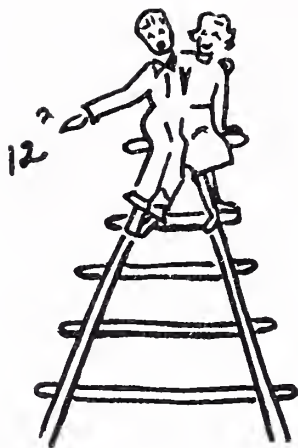

To Mr. Gillespie, we leave our gratitude for the time, work, and thought he has given us.

To Mrs. Dickenson, Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Wilkinson, our Senior sponsors, we leave our thanks for their guidance during our Senior year.

Witness my hand and seal to this, our Last Will and Testament on this the twenty-second day of March, 1954.

Good leadership ability, high moral standards, and passing scholastic averages are the qualities of representatives.

The Student Advisory Council consists of S.C.A. officers, publication heads, elected homeroom representatives, club presidents, and S.C.A. sponsors, but all the students of M.H.S. are members of the Student Co-operative Association.

During the year the S.C.A. sponsored a Southeast Assembly, sent seven delegates to the Halston District Meeting in Galax, and one delegate to the State Convention in Radford and carried an important business concerning the school.

Beta Club

The Beta Club awards membership to juniors and seniors on the basis of achievement, leadership, and character. Students with an A— average are admitted if approved by the club.

For projects the club bought a flag for the school, sold basketball pins, Christmas cards, and stationery, gave Christmas baskets, and sponsored a movie and the talent show. Delegates were sent to the Beta Convention in Richmond.

The Tri-Hi-Y is composed of junior and senior girls who endeavor to extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character. All members are required to attend church three times a month.

The club, jointly with the Hi-Y, sponsored the Christmas dance. The thought for the week was a club project. Several delegates were sent to the Model General Assembly in Richmond.

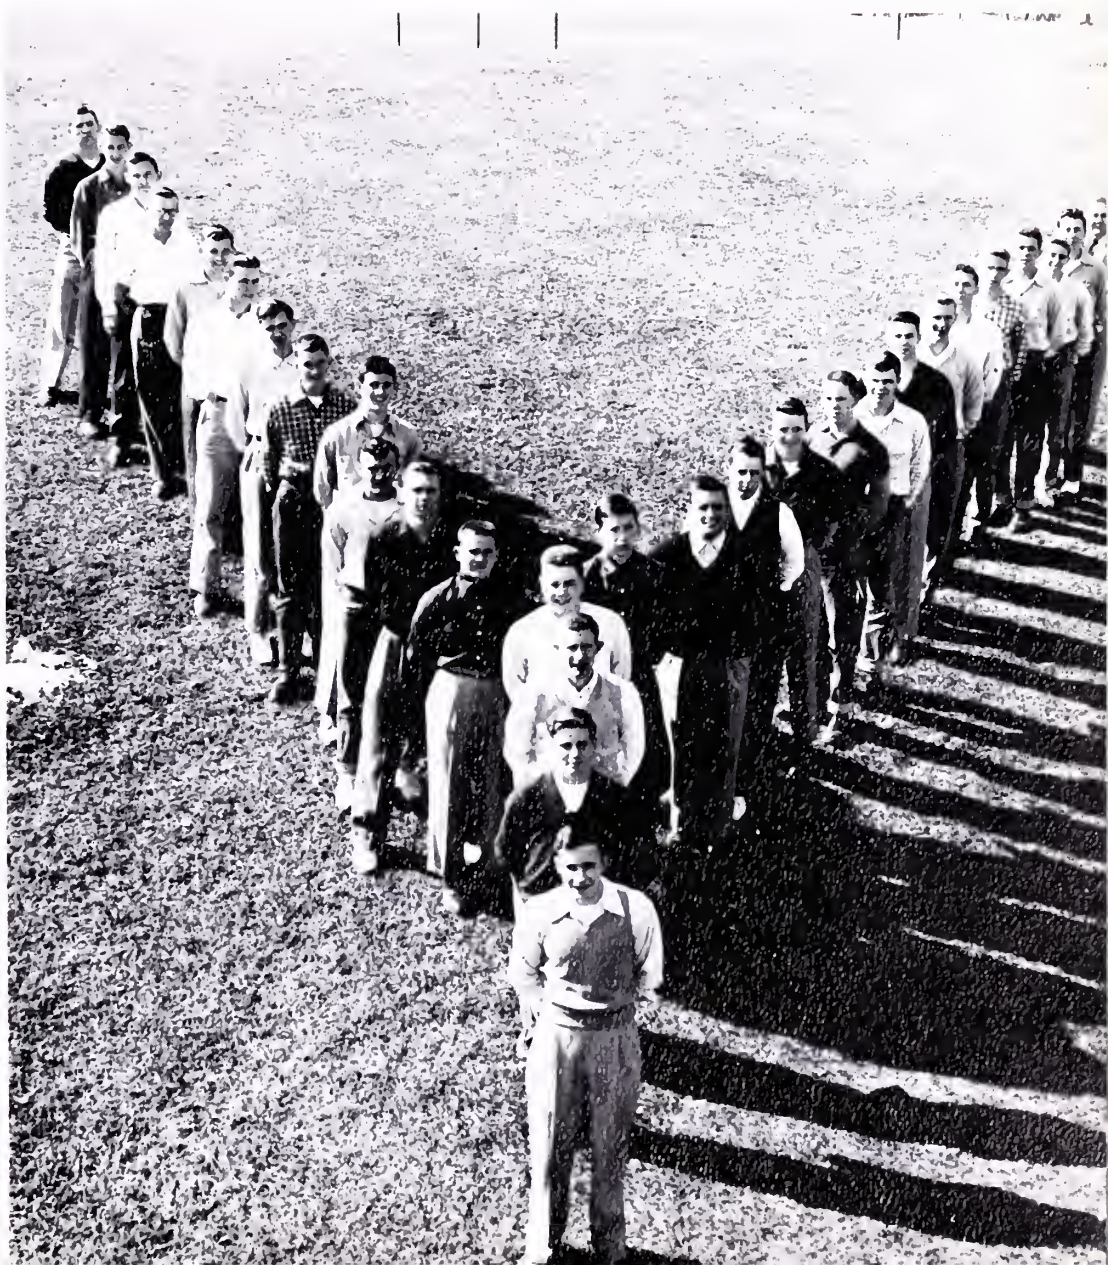

Hi-Y Club

The Hi-Y endeavors to extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character. All members are required to attend church at least three times a month. Members are urged to practice clean speech, clean living, clean scholarship, and clean sportsmanship.

Projects included the purchase of three religious books for the school library, helping sponsor the Christmas dance, selling drinks and candy at all home baseball games, sending delegates to the Model General Assembly, and having the thought for the week on the bulletin boards.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y, like all the Y clubs, tries to create high standards of Christian character.

In trying to maintain these goals the club has emphasized their platform of clean scholarship, clean sportsmanship, and clean living. They gave Christmas baskets, edited a telephone directory for the students and faculty and sent delegates to the Model General Assembly.

Junior Hi-Y

The Boys Junior-Y sets up the same standards as the other Y clubs.

Their projects included sponsoring of Homer Horris and his trick horse, a gift to the school and sending delegates to the Model General Assembly.

"Toward New Horizons" is the F.H.A. motto, which the club has tried to carry out in its aims and objectives. Members of the F.H.A. have maintained a snack bar in the cafeteria after school, sponsored the Valentine Dance, sent delegates to the convention, and participated in such community projects as fixing Thanksgiving baskets.

The club is open to any girl who has had or who is taking home economics and who is interested in homemaking.

Future Farmers of America

The Future Farmers of America is organized to aid boys in the agricultural course to become better farmers. This is recognized by their many worthwhile projects which included raising tobacco, winning first place in a forestry judging contest, shop judging contest, dairy judging, livestock, attending a camp at Smithfield, Virginia, attending rallies at Blocksburg, presenting radio programs, and community service in co-operation with the Junior Women's Club.

To become a member of the Literary and Forensic Club, a student must be actively interested in some field of literary work such as public speaking, prose reading, poetry, debating, spelling, or creative writing. To emphasize these qualifications, members of the club entered the local, county, district, and state meets, receiving special honors.

The club also raised money for the library, won a cup in the Homecoming parade, and for the first time secured pins for the members with guards for the officers.

Library Club

The purpose of the Library Club is to improve, whenever and however possible, the library and its services and to stimulate an interest in books and reading among the students through bulletin board displays, articles in the school paper, and special programs.

Each year the club gives a gift to the library. Last year the gift was plastic magazine covers.

To be eligible for membership a student must be in or above the ninth grade and assist in the library during the school day.

The purpose of the Distributive Educotian Club is to promote friendlier understanding between the members and their employers.

Sponsoring a float in the homecoming parade and decarating merchants windows during American Education Week were its projects far the year. The entire club also attended the oreo convention in Roanoke.

Future Business Leaders of America

Regular duties of the members of the FBLA this year have been typing for the MARIONETTE and doing clerical and stenographic work for the teachers. They have had several bake sales, the proceeds of which were used to purchase grey denim material make typewriter covers thus improving the appearance of the business department.

Civic projects included typing the envelopes for the local T. B. Seal Campaign and preparing the yearbooks for the American Association of University Women.

Delegates attended the Regional Convention at Radford and the State Convention at Roanoke. Sandra Groseclose was elected Regional Treasurer at the Regional Convention. She won second in the public speaking contest.

The Science Club serves as an organization preparing high school students for careers and hobbies in science.

To become a member of the club a student must be taking or have taken biology, chemistry or physics. He must maintain a B average in the class.

A member's principle activity is his personal project which include radio, photography, F. B. I., rocks, and magic flowers.

Varsity

To promote good sportsmanship and scholastic standing along with sports is the purpose of the Varsity Club.

The club sold programs prepared by the members at each home basketball game. Sweat shirts were sold as another project. For the first time an award in the form of a key was given to each senior by the club.

The Marian High School Senior Chorus is a credit course meeting daily as a class.

Programs presented by the chorus this year included a Christmas concert and a spring concert. The chorus also participated in the District Festival in Dublin and sang for various civic groups in Marian.

M. H. S. Band

The band has enjoyed another eventful year. Besides playing for all the football games except two, the members went on several trips to festivals. The band participated in the Bristol Festival, winning a Division II rating; accepted an invitation to appear in the Annual Shrine Football Classic at Roanoke; and competed with other bands in the Annual VI Concert Band Festival held at Dublin. Several civic appearances were made, among these being the annual Christmas Parade and Christmas Concert, and a parade and concert for the March of Dimes. The Annual Spring Concert was presented.

Two members of the band, Ned Legard, bass clarinet, and Bill McCarty, baritone saxophone, represented the school at the All State Workshop Band held in Grundy, Virginia.

The Hobby Club is made up of those in the eighth grade who wish to share their hobby ideas. It encourages active participation in educational pastimes.

The various kinds of hobbies are brought to the monthly meetings, studied, and suggestions for new hobbies are introduced.

Stagecraft Club

The Industrial Arts Club is especially designed for those boys who show special interest in building sets and helping stage school plays.

If you attended the junior and senior plays, noticed the prop arrangements of chairs, speaker's stand, and other props for assemblies, you saw some of the projects of the club. The club also awards pins to the senior members each year.

"THE LITTLE SHEPHERD OF KINGDOM COME"

The senior class presented this three-act comedy drama April 12 and 13 in the Marion High Auditorium.

The scene, laid in a section of the Kentucky mountains near Frankfort, took place in the living room of the Bufard home with thirteen characters, five boys and eight girls.

George Thampson played the leading role as Chad, "the little shepherd." Nathan Cherry, a hard fisted, cruel mountaineer was portrayed by Paul Greer. Chad grew up with the Turner family and fell in love with Melissy when a child. Barbara Barnett played the mountain girl Melissy. Glenda Stane assumed the role of Betsy Cherry the daughter of Nathan Cherry.

Major Calvin Bufard, played by Clayborne Gwyn, picked Chad up and took him to live with him. The Major's maiden sister, Miss Lucy Bufard who was played by Jenny Ja Pruner, was very shocked to have the presence of such an illiterate boy in her house.

Dale Dixon took the part of their Negro servant, Old Tam, while Connie Stephenson was their "eves-dropping" house maid, Thanky.

Martha Buchanan portrayed the part of Mrs. Caroline Dean, a neighbor. Margaret Dean, her daughter, was played by Ann Vernan, who was the leading character among the girls.

Robert Young was the sophisticated fiancee of Margaret, Richard Hunt and his sarcastic sister Nellie Hunt was played by Willie Anne Pugh. Gale Martin took the part of Jennie Overstreet, a very romantic poetess who "just loves men."

Mr. A. L. Mitchell and Mr. C. A. Wilkinson were the directors and Anne Eller was the student director.

Barbara Maare, Edwina Richardson, Mildred Rabbits, and Libby Ann Thampson were prompters and David Jahnsan was the stage manager.

"TAKE CARE OF MY LITTLE GIRL"

Playing before a full house, the 1953-1954 Junior Class presented "Take Care of My Little Girl" as its annual play December 4 in the M. H. S. Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

This delightful comedy in three acts, dramatized by Anne C. Martens presented the problem of college sorority life in an amusing, sometimes satirical, yet completely heart-warming way.

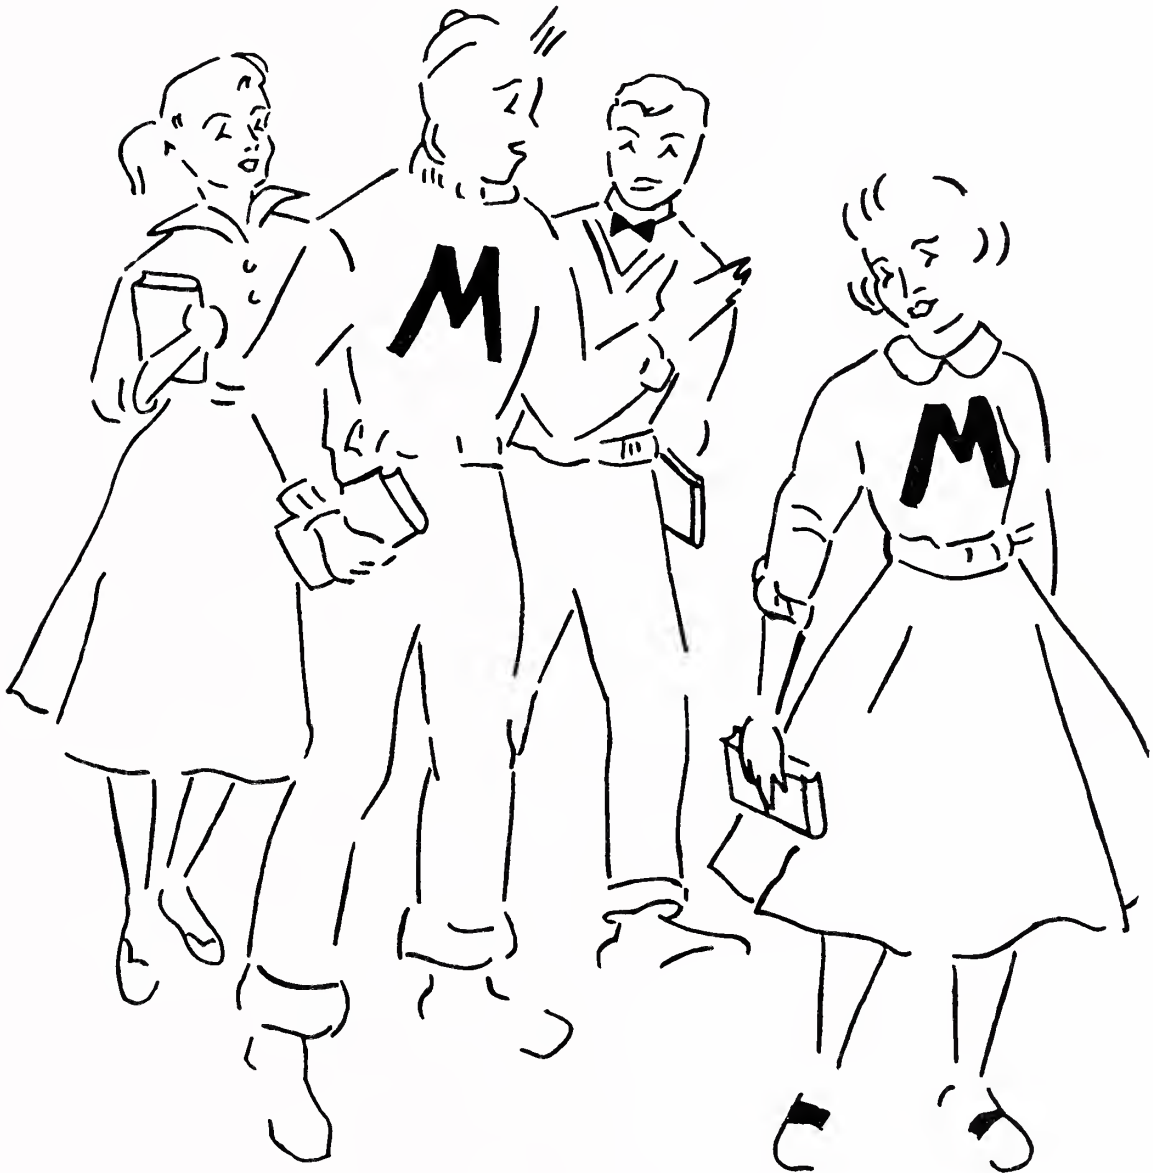

The cast consisted of Harriet Slemph as Elizabeth Ericson, the girl who goes away to Midwestern University and is caught up in the excitement and rush of college sorority life; Annette Ellis as Adelaide, Liz's friend from the west. Jean Query as Becky, the shy girl from Liz's home town; Mary Lou Hayward as Merry, president of the Queen's Sorority; Margaret Davis as Dallas, the beauty of the group; Donna Baane as Marge, good-natured rush chairman; Linda Brace as Casey, the intellectual; Patricia McCready as Mrs. Bellows, and influential alumnae; Peggy Jarrett as Mather Apple, the house mother; Dwayne Little as Joe, Liz's steady boy friend; Lester Hall as Chad, the prominent fraternity man; Bill Rouse as Sam, Dallas's heart interest; Jedd Capenhaver as an express man. Libby McCarty, Nancy Dutton, Betty Dillman and Beverley Birchfield took roles as Justine, Pally, Marilyn, and June, other sorority members; and Daris Blevins, Calene Huggins, Patsy Campbell, and Martha Capenhaver took roles as Thelma, Grace, Alice, and Marie, other sorority pledges.

Sandra Graseclase and Hugh Severt were student director and stage manager respectively. Other members of the Junior class served on committees. The play was directed by Miss Pauline Anderson and Mr. Mack Sturgill.

A Challenging FUTURE . . .

MANUFACTURING • DESIGNING • DEVELOPMENT • RESEARCH • MERCHANDISING • FASHION

. . . lies ahead in textiles. The world's oldest industry, textile manufacturing is today one of the most exciting and challenging fields for young men and women embarking on a career. Revolutionary man-made fibers, emerging from chemists' test tubes, have brought about progressive strides in textiles. A pioneer in the field, Burlington Mills today ranks as one of the world's leading producers of fabrics from man-made fibers.

From one plant with approximately 200 employees, our company has grown to include 74 manufacturing plants in 45 communities of ten states and three foreign countries. Employing 32,000 people, Burlington is today a recognized leader in the designing, development, research, merchandising and fashion fields as well as manufacturing.

If you are a young man or woman looking for a place in industry, we think you should consider textiles — and Burlington. It can hold a bright future for the person with the willingness to learn, ability to work, and a natural interest in this fascinating and competitive field.
